Projects

- Pricing Tool TypeScript, React, GraphQL, Apollo, SQL, Kubernetes, Web application to manage the process of generation contracts in the PDF format and their approving
I started this project from scratch and created MVP (Minimal valuable product). Then the implementation of the production version was started and I partially moved to the backend side. On this project, I used containerization with Docker and Kubernetes, and implemented an API based on query language (GraphQL).
- Personal e-search system PHP, Zend, AngularJs, B2B web application that supports HR's to publish job ad and to manage profiles of applied candidates
I have come to this project as a frontend developer but due to project reasons, I started to work a lot on the backend with PHP/Zend and Postgres. During this project, I dived into PHP, Zend, Laravel and worked with Postgres, Redis, Docker and RabbitMQ

Manager mobile workstation	JavaScript, ReactNative, React, Redux, thunk, An iOS ReactNative application for internal managers. During this project I learned JavaScript and React. The project is based on React, Redux and thunk stack. Also, I built a continuous integration for this project with Jest unit testing, SonarQube static analyzer, building iOS app with xcode, publishing to the internal mobile distributing server and Jenkins as a combiner for all steps. I was a team leader and I had got an experience of working with Jira, divide, evaluate and delegate tasks to team members.
Sberbank Europe	Android, Java, An Android native application for foreign users for banking. My first Android application where I learned Android SDK and libraries like Dagger and Robotium It was my first step into the world of mobile developing and I joined a big project that had been developing already for 3 years. I was breaking through the heaps of code and creating unit and GUI tests. Also, I added some new screens with functionality. On this project I learned how to work with Idea and write Android app with Java.
